

The City of Stone Mountain has obtained ten access codes for families with children with special needs to apply online for an event package to the 2016 Magical Journey Experience at the Ringling Bros. and Barnum Bailey Circus. The Magical Journey Experience is a special pre-show interactive experience for local children with special (physical or developmental) needs and their families. The families will also get tickets for the circus show that evening at Philips Arena on Friday, February 12th.

Families will be asked to provide information about their child with special needs and contact information, and select the number of tickets they will need (up to 4 tickets per family). Once they submit the information they will be sent to a confirmation page with information about the event. Registration closes December 21, 2015.

Please share this information with families you think would benefit from this offer. The access codes will be distributed to respondents in the order received by email at manager@stonemountaincity.org. No phone requests please.

This event is sponsored by Gas South and Feld Entertainment.
